Are you one of the many people who love the taste of a good meal with a special deal and enjoy it even more when you can share the experience with others? The Clearfield Center for Active Living, a program of the Clearfield County Area Agency on Aging, Inc., in partnership with various area restaurants, is teaming up to offer residents of Clearfield County a taste of local flavor.

The spring session of the new Dining Out Club is set to begin on March 18 and continue through April. Clearfield County residents 50 years of age and older are being offered substantial savings through the use of the Center's Dining Out coupons at the following restaurants: The Branding Iron, Daniel's Fine Dining, Aunt Lu's Café, The Smokehouse, Hedges' Fine Food & Spirits, and the Clearfield-Curwensville Country Club.

Each week one restaurant is featured, with one corresponding coupon, good on the date(s) listed. The Dining Out coupon booklet is available free to county residents 50 year of age and older and can be picked up at the Clearfield Center for Active Living, 103 North Front Street, Clearfield between the hours of 8:00 am and 4:00 pm, Monday through Friday, beginning March 12. Special arrangements to receive the booklet may be possible for those unable to visit the Center during the hours listed. Pre-registration with the Center is required for anyone wishing to participate. Restaurants interested in inclusion in the Fall Dining Out Club are asked to contact the Center prior to August 1.

Information on this and other programs, meals, and activities is available by calling the Clearfield Center at 765-9319 or 1-800-225-8571.
